BEK Youth Friday nights

The last four Fridays have been great fun. We are currently looking at and learning about the story of Jesus so that we can lead into Easter. We first looked at who Jesus is, then we looked at what Jesus did. Over the next few weeks we will look at what Jesus means for us and why did Jesus have to die.

We have had a good turnout from both Burntisland and Kinghorn Parishes. We would love to see more P6 and P7 children joining us. So far the numbers are looking good and have increased each week. All those who have attended have returned the following week.

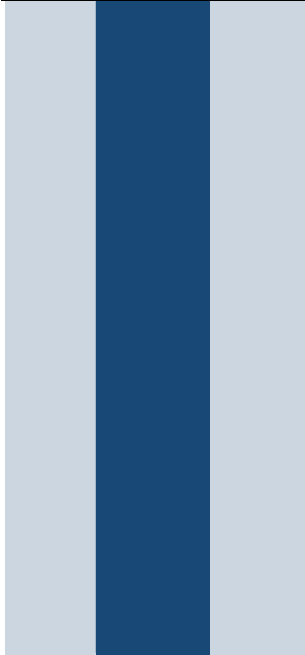

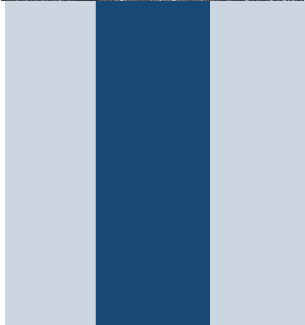

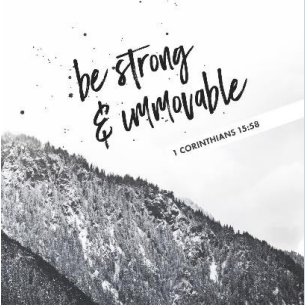

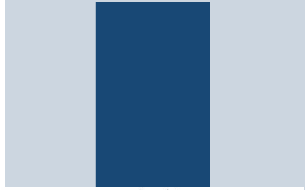

Please feel free to join us every Friday from 18:00 – 20:00.

Rugby

I have been given permission to run a rugby programme in Burntisland Primary. These will take place during school during their block sessions on a Tuesday and a Thursday for three weeks and if the school is happy with that, they will include younger ages to the programme.

Kirkcaldy rugby club has been going well. It has been great getting to know the players and their families a bit better. It is a great feeling when one steps into Balwearie High School and some of the boys from the rugby club come to greet me. These sessions have really been beneficial where relationship building and connections are concerned.

People are starting to get to know my name and me for who I am and this is a huge asset for the church and building our BEK community. The after school rugby programme at Kinghorn Primary School is going really well. We are averaging three to seven kids a week.

SU Group

I have started an SU group in Kinghorn Primary. This is going well and seems to be gaining momentum. Once the kids experience the group they seem to enjoy it so I am hoping that numbers will pick up here by word of mouth.

Community building

I have visited and met some of the families at Kinghorn toddlers group and hope to do the same at the Burntisland group soon in order to build relationships with families of all ages.

I have also been connecting with parents and grandparents at the Drift in, Cornerstone Café as well as at Café Church.

On Saturday 18 March, I attended the Burntisland Community event and had my own table set up ready to advertise the BEK Youth Group and further to assist in connecting with people from our community. It was well attended and had many fruitful conversations.

I have also had the privilege of attending the community breakfast meetings with members from all different fields within the community. This has been a great networking opportunity.

I am excited to continue expanding my knowledge through attending the Walk through the Bible training.

For those wanting to see me in person feel free to get hold of me. I have a rota to participate regularly in all age talks and children's activities at all three churches. It is through these opportunities as well as those like Chilled Church where I get to meet young people and families in all three venues. I am looking forward to participating in the Kinghorn Primary School Easter service and Kinghorn Gala services.

During the teacher strikes, I held a drop - in day for secondary school pupils in order to enquire which days they too would like to meet. I am looking at starting a group and activities for them in the near future.

Commissioning Service

What a privilege and honour it was to be commissioned on Sunday. It was even more special to have my old FOV convenor, Nigel Chikanya, leading the service. Thank you to everyone who attended the service. I pray you were as blessed as I was. I appreciate everyone's prayers and contributions both big and small.
